Failing to Communicate: Learning from Mistakes

NYSCA has long been an outstanding venue for the presentation of student research at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The scale of the conference allows for valuable feedback from seasoned scholars in a supportive yet rigorous environment. Often these exchanges go beyond the presentation and into the dining room, where beginning scholars have the opportunity to refine and develop their ideas in an informal setting.

This year's conference theme focuses on Communication Failure. If this theme is in keeping with the student's current work, we welcome that submission. Papers on any other communication topic are also sought.

Graduate and undergraduate students are strongly encouraged to submit a draft of their papers by July 1, 2007), followed by submission of a completed version for review by August 1, 2007. Submitters should note their student status on the submission. Student submissions will be considered for top undergraduate and top graduate paper awards.

Submission Guidelines for Completed Papers due by 8/1/2007

1. Cover page with the title of the paper, author's name, affiliation, mailing address, telephone number, and e-mail address.
2. A running head with an abbreviated title and "undergraduate research," "graduate research." Be sure to exclude your name from the running head.
3. A one-page abstract on the second page.
4. Please include the statement of professional responsibility below on the second page below the abstract:
"In submitting the attached paper, I/We agree to present the paper at the 2007 NYSCA Conference if it is accepted."
5. Abstracts and papers should be emailed to Dr. Missy Alexander,
Missy.Alexander@marist.edu (Microsoft Word or Wordperfect formats only)

Note: Requests for Audio-visual equipment must be made with your paper submission. Please include those needs on a separate page with your name, paper title, and email.
